Eddie Morgan's Skill Earns Him
Decision Over Johnny Dundee.

(Special to The World.)
IF skill counts for anything, pitted against strength and will, always glove-slinging, Eddie Morgan deserved the decision over Johnny Dundee in their ten-round bout last night.

In a fight, it was nearly an even thing. Dundee tried harder than he ever tried before. He was constantly rushing and swinging lefts and rights. A majority of these blows Morgan blocked very cleverly, but a few landed solidly. Most of the damage done by Dundee, however, was the result of his hitting. When he found that Morgan was out-pointing him, he began rushing wildly, head down, and using the top of his skull as a battering ram. His hitting was so persistent in the fifth round that Young Corbett, who referred the bout, warned Dundee several times. Near the end of the round he pulled Dundee away from a bunch, in which the little Italian was butting like a billy goat, and said: "I told you to keep your head up."

In the next round Dundee safely leaped at Morgan head first, flying through the air like a 12-inch shell. The Englishman's left eye was badly bruised as a result, and at the end of the round Dundee was booted to his corner.

Coming out for the seventh, Dundee had his head up and stopped butting. He was at once at a disadvantage, for in clean boxing Morgan's swift and clean hitting enabled him to score well.

Dundee had a trick of holding and sitting. He circled Morgan's neck with his left, and wheeled away with the right, or caught him around the waist with one arm and hammered at the body with the other.

But aside from this unpleasant feature, Dundee's work was full of interest. He showed lots of speed, and an instinct to do something every second of the time. His old habit of dancing and jumping Jack on a string showed only once in a while. He took chances and bit hard. Morgan's punches didn't stop him, although once in a while they drove him back a couple of steps.

Finally Dundee retaliated instantly when he was hard hit, coming plunging back with both hands swinging.

From the fifth to the ninth round Morgan seemed to be tiring. In the tenth he rallied and outpointed Dundee, beating him with clean, straight punches and meeting his wild thrusts with steady skill.

Although the English featherweight (the weights were announced: Dundee, 108 pounds; 6 ounces; Morgan, 120½ pounds) was a much better boxer, Dundee's work gave an impression that he could beat Morgan in long fight. He is absolutely tireless, and he is a whirl of lightning energy and action. If he ever learns how to use his strength and speed, he'll be a world beater.

HUGH G. MINTONSHI, the Australian boxing promoter, writes his reasons for calling off all negotiations with Jack Johnson. Says Mr. Mintonsh:

"Just at present boxing in Australia is at the highest possible tone of sportsmanship. The French boys and the Australians and Americans, too, who have been meeting this season have all behaved like sportsmen and gentlemen, keeping up the highest traditions of the ring. I am not going to degrade this excellence by going on with the importation of Johnson. Much good money has been spent by me over this business, but if just has to go—that's all. As far as I am concerned, Johnson will never come to Australia again. He dare not show his face in London; he is barred in New York, and now that he will have difficulty in doing anything here, the only place that is left for him, as far as I can see, is France, and I doubt that they will stand him even there. I am quite prepared to release Langford from his contract if he wants to meet Johnson elsewhere, and I think Johnson would be beaten in a fight to a finish."

MIKE GLOVER would like a reunion with Jack Britton. He offers to meet Jack at 140 pounds' rialsde, which is a comfortable weight for Britton himself.

Says Billy Glover: "Mike boxed Dillon and Buck Cruise, two of the leading middleweights, and during the past month has twice defeated Tommy Colman, who has been passed up in preference for easy ones by all the fighters in New York. I will not take a penny for Mike's end if he can't beat Britton."

ANOTHER manager with a difference is John Dundee, who disputes the fact that Dundee played the game. Peter Callahan, "Patsy" is willing to meet Dundee, Kirkwood or Kilbane on any reasonable conditions. He fought both Dundee and Kirkwood to a standstill in ten rounds, and the fact that Dundee wants $1,000 for his end to meet Patsy in a ten-round bout shows that a very wholesome respect for him exists."

Garrison Story Boating.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 20.—Tommy Garrison of Garrison's Clever Cakes from Jas. D. & N.Y. in the Eagle Club, Garrison's Clever Cakes, and Referee Matt Jackson, the referee of the Garrison Story Boating, were completely defeated in the fifth round, and the round was cut short by the referee. The combination of Garrison Story and Matt Jackson won the evening game by 12 to 11, winning from Sterling and Jackson.

Luther McCarty Begins Training for Palzer Bout

Jim Flynn's Conqueror 10-9

Favorite in Betting for
New Year's Contest.

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

NOT caring to take any chances of being out of condition when he goes against Al Palzer in their ten-round bout at Vernon, Cal., New Year's afternoon, Luther McCarty has started in training for the contest at Vernon, Cal., where he prepared for his battle with Jim Flynn. Although the contest is still twelve days off, there is so much interest in the battle that the fight fans of Los Angeles have already begun to make bets on the result with McCarty the favorite at odds of 10 to 1.

Palzer, lightweight, then will meet for six rounds at the Olympia A. C. of Philadelphia, Saturday, Dec. 28, for $1,000. He is the smaller, younger Dundee who received nothing in a long time.

Kid Mottram, the crack Western middleweight, and his manager, Martin Puryear, left for the holidays. Mottram is going to Oakdale, Wis., while Puryear is staying in Chicago. After New Year's, Mottram will return to the States to meet Al Palzer at Vernon, Cal., and Young Flynn at the Olympia. He will be in the ring again Jan. 10, when he meets the 10-year-old Dundee at the Fairmont A. C. on Jan. 16.

James Walls of Jersey City and "C" Smith of Newark, N. J., will meet in a five-round bout at the Hudson Gymnasium, N. J., Saturday, Dec. 28, at 8 p.m. The 12½ mark Bomber is to throw his punches at Walls for 20 to 25 rounds.

Billie McNamee, the giant heavyweight champion of England, is about to make his debut in the English bulldog. Petty Officer Carter, who probably has been defeated more than any other boxer in the world, will meet McNamee in a five-round bout at the Olympia, Saturday, Dec. 28, at 8 p.m. Carter and McNamee are as follows: Length cross and Teddy McNamee of Philadelphia; One Round Hogan and Young Flynn and Phil Cross and Willie Bechler, who put them round. Billie McNamee will meet the 10-year-old Dundee at the Fairmont A. C. on Jan. 16.
